
Here is a series of pictures sent in to us by Richie for his latest project. All the text below except our nota

here

The demons armature was built by a guy in New York named Carlos Garcia. I bought it off eBay for $30

All those black details are made of Friendly Plastic, and added by me. What looks like a breathing mech

Don´t know yet how that will work as I´ve only done some test animations of him. Carlos armature is fan

Note: Friendly Plastic is a type of soft plastic you place in hot water to sculpt. Once cool it hardens.

Also, there's a light will be attached in a part of the puppet, so the eyes light up at the flick of a featured in the story the blue screen sessions and a detail from the cover of the fake pulp book